Connie Bennett crowned Halton Dairy Princess

At a reception with nearly 50 friends, relatives and Halton milk producers, 18 year-old Connie Bennett was crowned Halton Region's Dairy Princess for 1992-93, October 30.

Connie, the daughter of Larry and Cathy Bennett of Halton Hills, formerly of Burlington, received her silk sash and crown, at a reception in her honor at Hugh Foster Hall, in Milton. Outgoing Princess, Lisa Murray of Acton, was on hand to turn over her crown.

During the coming year, Connie will be traveling about the region, representing Halton's milk producers as she speaks to various groups, including schools, where future consumers will learn about the about the dairy industry, nutrition and farming in general.

With her crowning, Connie receives many gifts compliments of several sponsors of the Dairy Princess Program, and the Halton Milk Committee.

Among her gifts were a dozen red roses, a three piece set of luggage and monetary award from the milk committee, as well as a gold watch, Robert Bateman print, music box, cow figurine, scrapbook and a gift certificate from the olde Hide House in Acton.

Although Connie is currently enrolled in the Art and Interior Design course at Fanshawe College in London, she intends to fit as many speaking engagements into her schedule as possible during the next year.

For anyone wishing to have her speak to their group, contact Gwen Brander, Dairy Princess coordinator, at 877-1505 for details.
