At last week's U.C.W. meeting, president Alma Sinclair opened with a reading on "eternal things." Ten members answered the roll call of one of Paul's letters. Margaret Jamieson and Erena Howes were responsible for the devotion and program.

The ladies divided up their year long earnings for 1992, in donations for various needy groups. Plans were discussed for the U.C.W. annual Christmas meeting and party on December 15. Women in the area are invited to this party. Please call Alma Sinclair (877-6050) and Edith Volmar (877-4915) for more details. Margaret Jamieson and Joyce Clarke reported on their recent trip to Toronto with other U.C.W. delegates from the area. In Toronto the ladies visited the Massey Centre (a home for unwed mothers) and the Victor home. Both were impressed with the modern facilities.

Sunday, Nov. 29 brings us to the Junior Choir first production of their annual Christmas musical. Directed by Patt Kerr, the group will travel to the Erin United Church for a service beginning at 10:30 a.m. Then it is off to Crieff Conference Centre in Puslinch County for another performance in the afternoon. "No Fibbin' Mephiosheph" is the musical's title, and the story is about a crippled boy being taken in by shepherds, who make him feel accepted. Another important date coming up is Sunday, Dec. 6, when the White Gift Service will be held.

Come on out to the euchre this Thursday, Nov. 26. The fun starts at 7 p.m. Refreshments and sandwiches will be served. A good deal at $3 per person.

Cars were lined up the sideroad as the community centre parking lot overflowed with all the people visiting last Sunday's Craft Show. There was certainly plenty to choose from with 47 tables of various crafts, from anything from Christmas decorations, knitted items, dried flower arrangements, wood working, folk art painting, and gift baskets. A beautiful snowman cake, baked by Kathy Snelling was raffled off, and won by Andrew Lorrinan, a second time winner of this lovely cake. Frances Berg won the jelly bean jar raffle. It was Kathy Snelling, Katherine French, and Edith Volmar who manned the bake table all day long. Many thanks to all those who donated items for the bake table. A tidy sum was earned for the community centre. Chris Vale and Sue Aitken manned the door prize table. For every $5 spent, a contest form was given out, for a chance to win one of 45 prizes that had been donated by vendors. This was quite a crowd pleaser. In the kitchen Betty Andrews, Sue Attard, Gloria Buckley, and Karen Smith (who later turned into a clown to help out Santa) cooked and served a lovely lunch, along with snacks and refreshments.

Santa Claus was a great hit among the young and the old, with many having their picture taken with him. Heartfelt thanks to Santa for taking time out of his busy schedule to drop by and visit the kiddies. Organizers would also like to thank the vendors who participated in the show.

Ball league wraps up season

The Baseball League of Home, Huttonville and Norval held a potluck dinner on Nov. 20 at Huttonville School.

Lois Reid and Fred Paul provided musical numbers and accompanied Rev. Ann Rowsell as she led a singsong. Ford Rowsell was chairman for the evening and was given a vote of thanks for arranging the ball tournament. Several lucky draws were given out and won by Joyce Williamson, Lois Fraser, Mary Garbutt, Dave Hanson, Carla Shaw, Lisa Garbutt, Shawn Dunlop and Eric Beardmore.
