

New windows

The stained glass windows in the Gallery of the Cultural Centre are nearly all back in place, as Kathy Parker (above) of Robert McCausland Ltd. installed some of the panels, Monday. The large window will be fully installed within the next two weeks. At the same time, members of Arts Alive and LACAC assembled with Town staff as they made a presentation of $5,000 to the Town of Halton Hills to help cover the cost of the renovation. On hand for the presentation were (seated) Tom Shepard, Director of Recreation and Parks and Lois Elliott, Chairperson of Arts Alive. In back, from left, Cultural Centre Manager Hank Huhtanen, Margaret Eggleton-Kaye, Maureen Walker, Bev Smith and Linda Parker, all of Arts Alive, Eric Connolly of LACAC, and Paul Stover, Town Superintendent of Facilities. In addition to the donation from Arts Alive, a $6,600 grant from the Ministry of Culture and Communications was attained by LACAC to help with the $24,853 overall cost of refurbishing the 13 windows, which were originally built in 1877.
