Suspicious vehicle

Police report a suspicious vehicle was in the driveway of an Eighth Line residence early Tuesday morning. At approximately 2:50 a.m., the owner of the house was awakened by a dog's barking and subsequently noticed a vehicle parked at the end of the driveway with the lights off. The vehicle drove off when the man turned on the exterior lights to his house. The man also found a beer bottle on his property.

Money scam

An investigation continues after gas attendants in Acton and Georgetown reported a suspicious person to police early last week. On Sunday, Jan. 31 at 8:30 p.m., an unknown man entered a gas station in Acton and gave the attendant $60 in small bills in exchange for three $20 bills. The suspect then accused the attendant of only giving him two 20s. The suspect left when the attendant suggested the police be called. A similar incident happened the following evening at a gas station in Georgetown when a man tried to exchange $80 in small bills for four $20 bills and then accused the attendant of being short changed.

Police Blotter

Sex assault charge

A Georgetown man has been charged with sexual assault following an incident on January 24. Police report that a man entered the victim's bedroom, on Cleaveholm Drive in Georgetown, where she was napping. The accused placed his hand under the woman's clothing and fondled her, police said.

Break and enter

Nothing was taken during a break and enter on Argyll Road in Georgetown Monday. According to police, sometime between 6:20 a.m. and 7:25 p.m., unknown person(s) entered the home through a small basement window. Once inside, the suspects rummaged through the house and later exited through the rear sliding doors. No property was found missing.

Tire stolen

A tire from a vehicle parked on Fourth Line in Halton Hills was stolen on January 29, police report. The owner parked his vehicle along the side of the road and went into the bush where he was cutting wood. Upon his return at 10 a.m., he observed two males near his car. Once they saw him they ran and left in a pick-up truck. The suspects drove off with one of the vehicle's tire and had removed another one.

Hit and run

A total of $350 in damage was caused to a vehicle following a hit and run on James St., west of Main S. in Georgetown Tuesday morning. According to police, the vehicle was parked in a municipal parking lot and when the owner returned, he found damage to the rear cargo door and the tail-lights.

Don't be another fire stat

In 1993, until the end of January, there were 35 alarms and $47,500 in losses. No injuries or fatalities. In 1991, there were 23 alarms with a dollar loss of $22,000 with no injuries and no fatalities. In 1992, 45 alarms with a loss of $584,500; no injuries and no fatalities. The above stats are cumulative totals to the end of January.

Through the publication of these stats, the Halton Hills Fire Department is making an effort to reach the adult population of our community with an "Educate to Prevent" program.
