

Sewing success

By BEV GOSS
Special to the Independent/Free Press

What an evening for sewers! There were 27 entries in the Renew your Rejects competition at the January 12 meeting of the Halton Creative Sewing Association.

All who attended were encouraged to choose the best in four categories. The winners are:

Most Innovative - Edith Lechien's blouse made from embroidered pillow cases and table napkins.

Most Useful - Paula O'Connell's jacket made from old denim and lined with faux fur.

Most Artistic and Best of Show were both captured by Doreen Fitzgibbon's nostalgia doll dressed in former dress materials and trim.

Congratulations to you all! We are appreciative that so many participated in the event giving us so many innovative ideas.

By the way an honorable mention goes to Mary Brooks for her quilt made from used material and backed by cereal bags. Unfortunately not obtaining enough votes for a prize it certainly demonstrated an age old tradition of making things over.

Shirley Lyons and Bonnie Glass put on a terrific demonstration of other ways to use material from old fur coats, scraps, old and new.

How can any of us take anything to the dump from here on in without giving it a good once over first? There may be part of a braided rug, a dolls ensemble, a cozy bedcover, children's wear right there waiting for you to sew up.

Paula O'Connell, visiting from Oakville, spoke to us about how to use and how to obtain faux fur.

Hope you got your handout in various threads and their uses and thanks to all who participated in our Loonie Sale.

The next meeting will be March 30 at 8 p.m. at the high school in Georgetown. Subjects will be Home Decorating, Color and You, and a display of Heirloom Sewing by Judy Marquis, a representative of Capitol Imports. Don't miss it! For more information please call Shirley at 877-5485.
