Enjoy an 'old tyme' Valentine today

Why not participate in the "Old Time Valentine" event today, February 14, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Mountsberg Wildlife Centre.

Wander down to the farm pond for some old fashion skating, or warm up by the bonfire with a steaming cup of cider. You can even take part in a quiz about the weird ways of critter courtship or just sit back and enjoy a romantic horse drawn sleigh ride with that special someone. Those of you with a true love for birds, may want to join a staff naturalist for a guided walk to several of Mountsberg's busy winter bird feeding stations. All of these activities and more are included in your gate admission. For more information call (416) 854-2276 (weekends). Mountsberg is located just five km west of Campbellville.

Dr. Tennyson (Eric Widvoet) has a confrontation with Dr. Cook, (Lloyd Lindsay) about his questionable record-keeping habits in Georgetown Little Theatre's newest production, Dr. Cook's Garden.

GLT readies for Thursday's opening

The John Elliott Theatre will see the cast and crew of Georgetown Little Theatre's production of Dr. Cook's Garden move in on Sunday.

The set crew, led by designed Ron Hunt, will erect the five-room set, starting at noon. By 5 p.m. lighting designer Ian Oldaker will be focusing lights. John and Ruth Carter will move in their 1890 props trunk full of china, glass, etc. Finally, plants, trees and furniture will be arranged to bring the set to life.

Dr. Cook's Garden, a suspenseful thriller directed by Neville Worsnop and produced by Dorothy Hunt. The cast includes NRS real estate magnate Gary Brand, GDHS teacher Pat Ball, and GLT vice-president Joyce Holland. Drs. Cook and Tennyson are played by Lloyd Lindsay of Arkell, and Eric Witvoet of Brampton.

On Thursday, Feb. 18, there will be a benefit performance for the North Halton Literacy Guild. Regular performances are on Feb. 19, 20 and 24 through 27. Tickets are still available for most shows, at the Theatre box office Tuesday and Thursday, 4-8 p.m., or by calling anytime 877-3700. Remember, no GST with GLT.
