

Saying goodbye

A presentation was made recently to Karl Heide (centre left), former group committee chairman of 3rd Acton and to his son Stephen for their help with the troop. The Heide family moved to Cambridge at the end of February.

Fire Department says

Smoke can kill

Smoke confuses, obscures vision, hides exit signs and escape routes. It is black. It billows down halls and fills every crevice. There is more.

Smoke contains nitric oxide which turns to nitric acid when it mixes with the moisture of eyes, nose and throat. The pain is excruciating. The eyes tear and eventually snap shut. Carbon dioxide speeds up breathing allowing carbon monoxide to enter the body 200 to 300 times faster than oxygen. Carbon monoxide is drawn into the lungs leaving a person dazed, disoriented and, finally dead.

Plan for a speedy exit. Have a home fire escape plan and practise it. Keep in mind, small children need practice. Left to their own devices, a terrified child may scramble under a bed or into a closet to hide. When the smoke alarm sounds follow your plan and if there's smoke, crawl low.

For more information on this and other fire safety issues please contact the Halton Hills Fire Department, Fire Prevention Division at 873-1133.
