Rockwood man dies in crash

A single-vehicle crash in Milton Heights claimed the life of 30 year-old David Douglas Reid of Rockwood early Thursday morning.

Shortly before 4 a.m. on Thursday, a resident contacted Halton police after hearing a loud bang followed by a power outage.

Police arrived and discovered a 1993 Chevrolet upside down in a driveway on Tremaine Road, south of No. 3 Sideroad.

"Two hydro poles were sheared off and (live) wires were hanging down on the vehicle," said Acting Staff Sergeant Frank Phillips.

The car's engine was still running and the vehicle was leaking gas. Firefighters at the scene took measures to prevent a blaze, police said, and the hydro was shut off.

The vehicle, occupied by only the driver, was travelling north on Tremaine Road when it went out of control and left the road, according to investigating officer Constable Mark Freeman.

The car crashed into a hydro pole, drove into a ditch, and hit another pole before coming to a stop.

About a dozen homes were without power for four hours after the collision, which caused damage to two poles and a transformer, said Dave Smith, a spokesman for Milton Hydro.

Reid, who was found inside the car, was pronounced dead by a coroner at the scene.

Book buying time

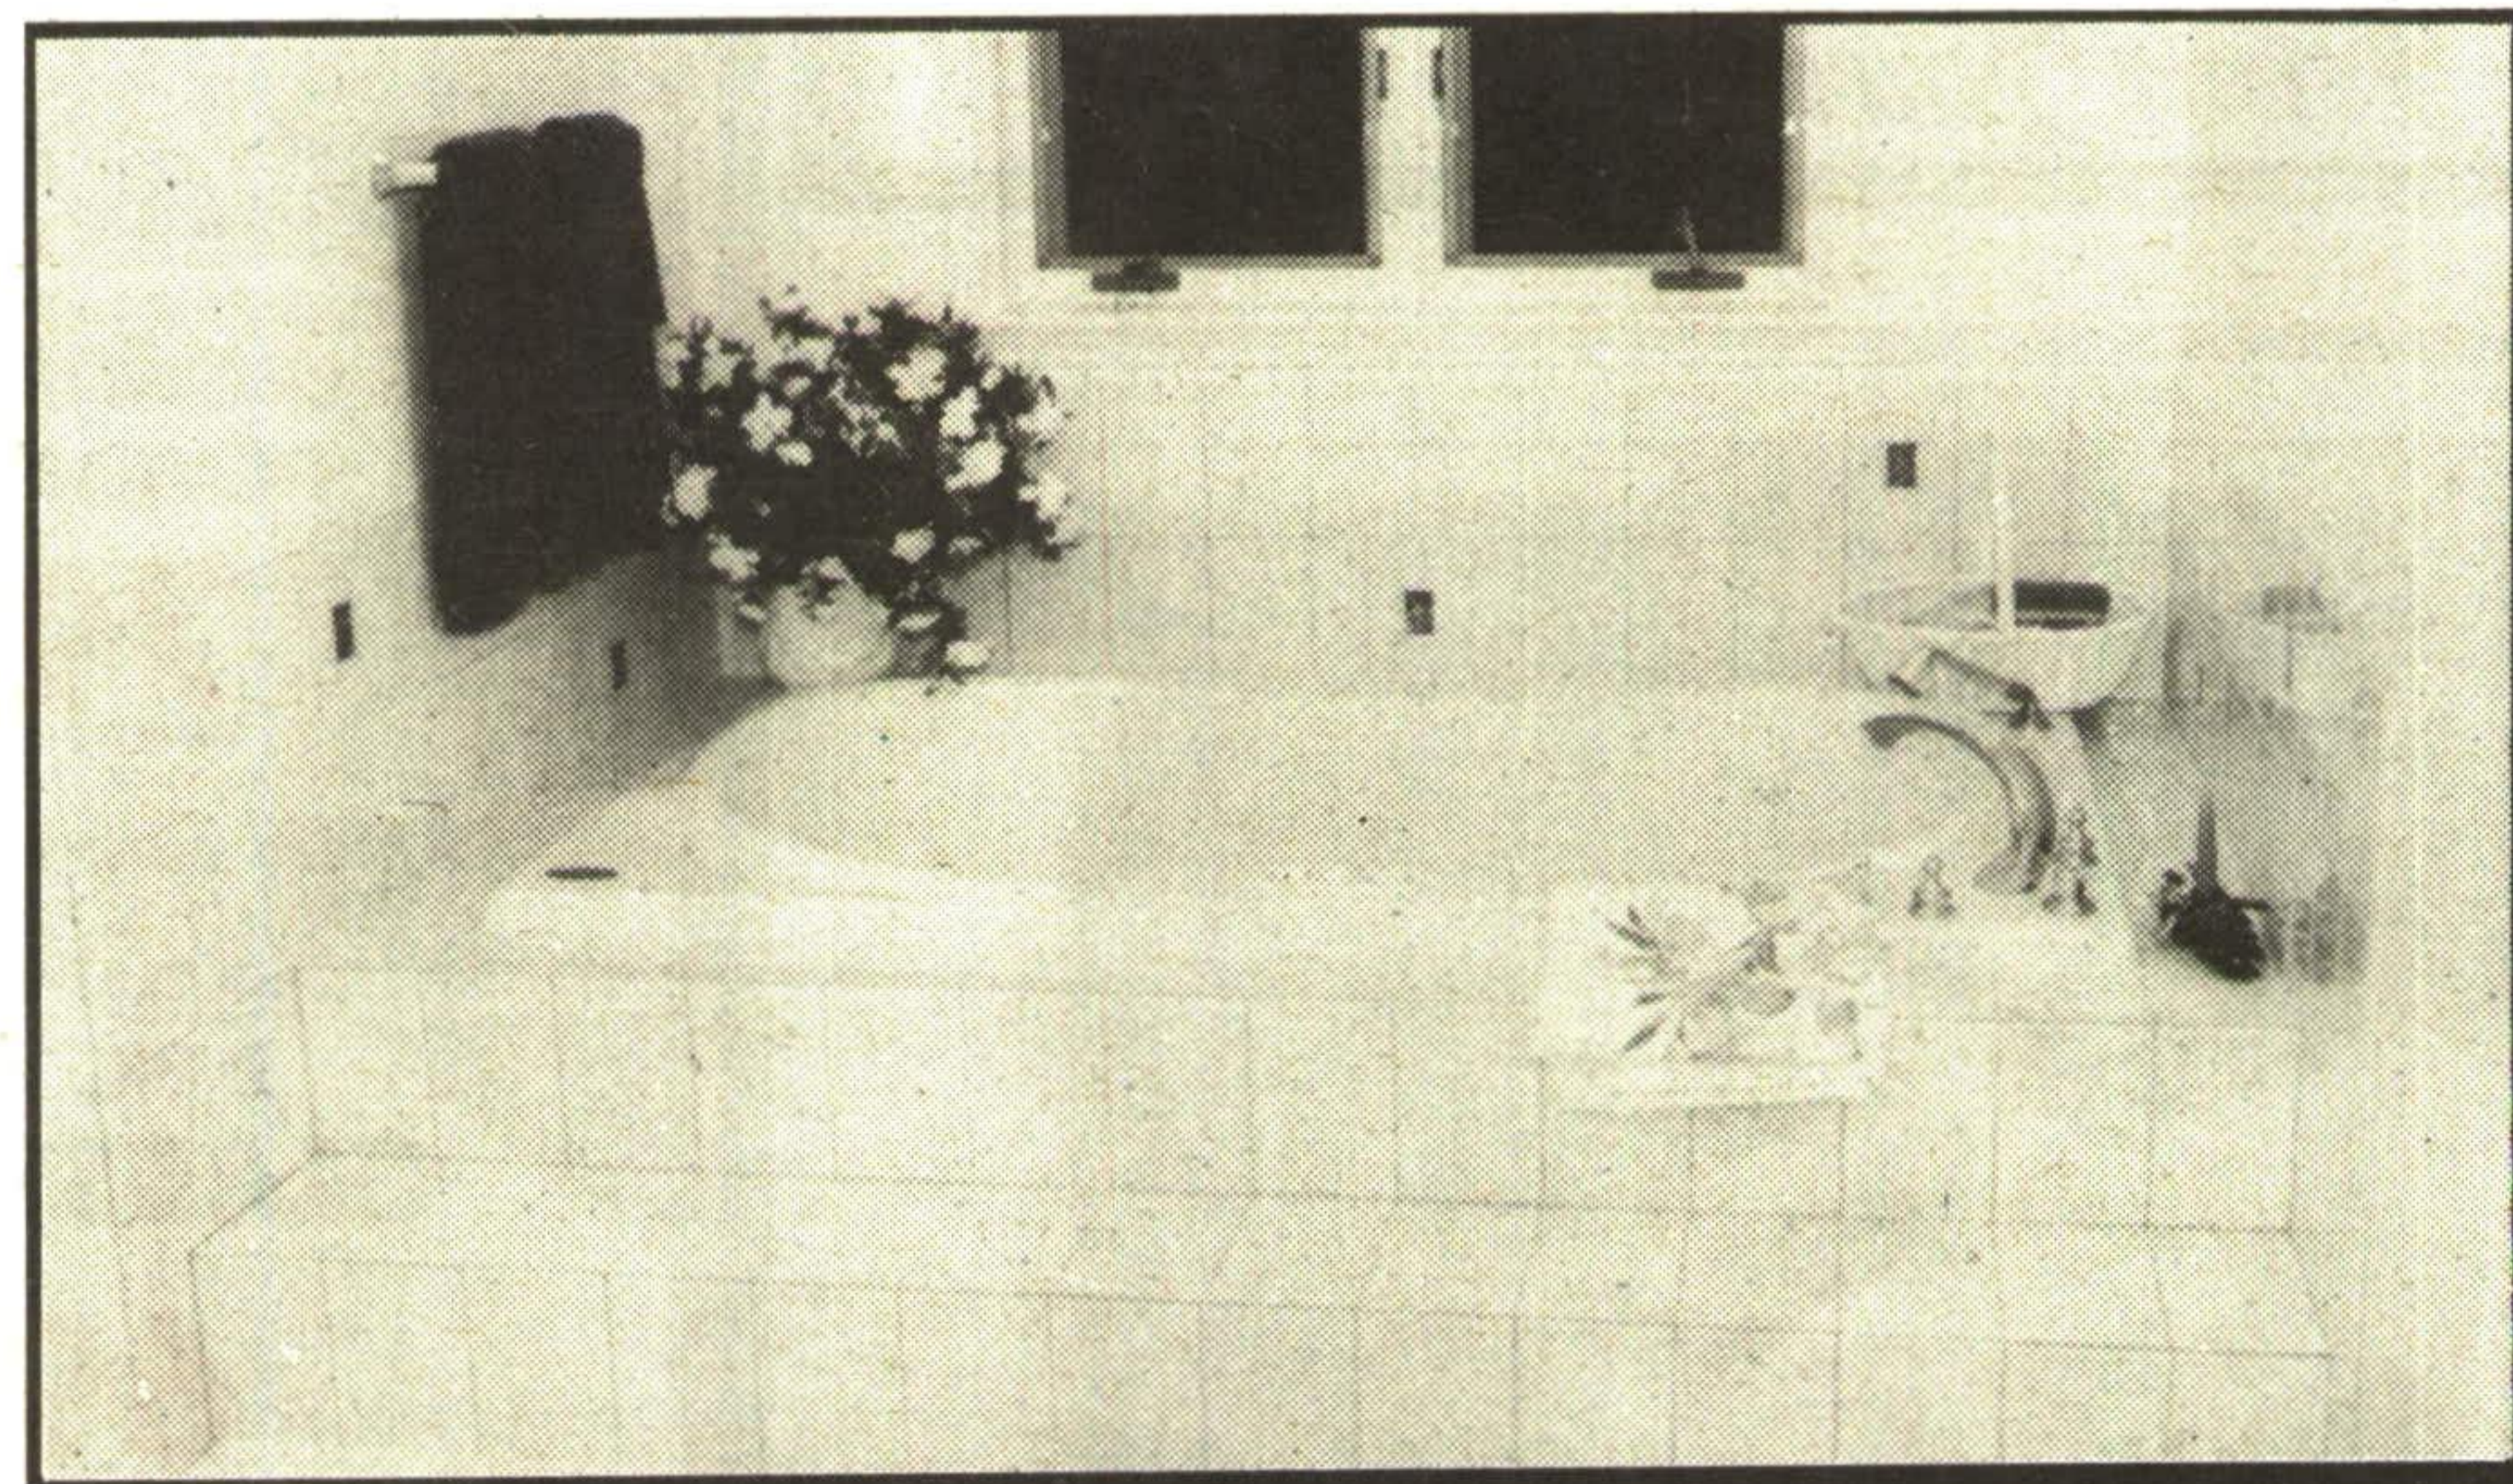

It's that time of year again. The University Women's Club of Georgetown is preparing for their 21st annual book sale, only this time they will add toys to the sale items. Ann Lawlor and Jane Fogal get a helping hand categorizing the books from MacKenzie Lawlor, Ben Carter and Emma Carter. The sale runs next Saturday, April 24, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Knox Presbyterian Church in Georgetown. Proceeds will go toward scholarships for local students.
