Classics on Father's Day

Father's Day usually results in yet another tie, pipe or pair of argyle socks for dear old Dad.

Why not treat Dad to something unique? Take him to one of Canada's largest outdoor auto shows: the sixth Annual Classics Against Cancer Auto Show at Cedarvale Park in Georgetown on Sunday, June 20.

The show offers the perfect opportunity to enjoy vintage cars, meet Canadian superstar Scott Goodyear — and make a contribution to the Canadian Cancer Society.

Whether you're an Indy Car fan or a vintage car enthusiast, Classics Against Cancer is sure to please. Visitors will see more than 300 rare and beautiful cars, from antique and classic road cars to Scott Goodyear's Indy Car, which will be on display from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m.

For just $5, car enthusiasts can enjoy classic and the little ones can have their faces painted, laugh with colorful clowns and jugglers and enjoy live entertainment for free. Delicious food and refreshments will be available for the whole family.

Last year's show raised approximately $17,000 for a total of $65,000 since the first event in 1988.

Local businesses can give their support to the event by making cash contributions or donating merchandise or services.

So bring the whole family and celebrate Father's Day while doing a good deed, raising funds for the Canadian Cancer Society.

Birds of prey on display

The Mountsberg Wildlife Centre is offering a unique opportunity this summer for children to discover the world of birds of prey.

The program provides a tour of the Wildlife Walkway, home to 15 different kinds of raptors or birds of prey. The story of how injured birds are returned to the wild and visits with 'Tom', the turkey vulture, 'Chomper', the owl, 'Bob', the hawk and 'Kelly', the falcon are all part of the two hour program.

For more details or bookings, just call (416) 336-1158 and ask for information on the 'Hawk Talk'. The Mountsberg Wildlife Centre is located five km west of Campbellville, south of Hwy. 401 on Milborough Line.
