

Theresa and Ken McIsaac are a mother and son team who operate KT Taxi, which opened in Acton recently.

KT Taxi drives into Acton

By JANET BAINE
Staff writer

A mother and son operate Acton's only taxi service, KT Taxi, which opened June 25.

"It's just the two of us working right now," Ken McIsaac said. "A couple of friends are volunteering some time to give us our breaks."

The taxi service is offered 24 hours a day, seven days a week. But the McIsaacs plan to also sell coffee, donuts, sandwiches, muffins, pop, juice and cigarettes from their Mill St. office.

It usually costs under $5 for a ride anywhere within Acton. From Acton to downtown Georgetown is about $20 and to Georgetown Marketplace it's about $25, Ken said.

"We decided to open the taxi service because it was really needed in Acton. There were so many people who are elderly, people who are sick, and they can't get out," Theresa McIsaac said.

"And because we enjoy being around people, we're here to serve them," Ken said.

KT Taxi, which stands for Theresa and Ken, have one taxi right now, but they plan to have a second one on the road in September.

Interested in living in a co-op?

A group of local people want to know if other Georgetown residents are interested in living in a proposed co-op development.

"We're still at the wish list stage, we're looking at 60 to 100 units, depending on how much interest there is," Georgetown resident Andrea Stenberg said. She is employed by Homestart and is working on the project. The townhouse development would be called Glenview Co-operative Homes.

The Ministry of Housing has called for proposals, which have to be submitted, along with a needs and demands study, by the end of July.

If you are interested in finding out more about the proposal, contact Andrea at 1-800-567-8117, ext. 259, Monday to Friday before July 20.
