Christmas Craft Fair expands

To celebrate 10 years of providing country crafts, the Ontario Agricultural Museum's Christmas Craft Fair is expanding. Now more than 75 exhibitors will offer a variety of handcrafted items for sale on September 25 and 26.

During the past decade, the Museum's Craft Fair has developed into a significant province-wide show attracting artisans from across Ontario, all with hand made crafts.

"The Christmas Craft Fair's appeal continues to grow. This year the expanded show means a greater variety of product for the visitor," says Anthony Price, the museum's general manager. This year the fair has expanded from one to several of the museum's buildings.

Early Christmas shoppers will find gifts for everyone on their list, including folk art, jewelry, copper, stained glass and gourmet food. With all these unique crafts there will even be that gift for the person who has everything.

One admission price allows the visitor to enjoy the Craft Fair and explore the museum's 80 acres. Located 5 km west of Milton on the Town Line (off 5 Sideroad); follow the signs.

Admission rates are: Adults $4.50, Youths (6-17) and Seniors $2.25, and a family rate of $10.

The Ontario Agricultural Museum is open daily 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. through September 26, 1993.
