Holy Cross School starts toy drive

By LESLIE ENGLAND

Special to The Independent/Free Press

Last year Holy Cross School was looking for a way to make Christmas "a little more special for some people. Well, they found it.

Students and teachers embarked on a campaign to collect Canadian Tire money from the community which they would turn into buying power to purchase toys to be given to needy children at Christmastime.

These 5, 10 and 50 cent bills really added up and Holy Cross last year, were able to raise over $700 which bought over $1,000 worth of toys at wholesale prices.

So this year, they decided to do it again. Collection boxes will be at each cash register in Canadian Tire, plus there will be a large box at the school.

"I think it's wonderful, we have over 250 children under the age of 12 and it gives the parents of those kids a chance to make their Christmas a whole lot brighter," says Laura Ellison, coordinator of The Love in Christ food bank.

Holy Cross principal, Bob Soroko, teachers Susy Lorito and Julie Goulet and Tracey Craig, manager of Canadian Tire are in charge of this project and were very happy with last year's results. Students, parents and other teachers also helped and will continue to do so this year by unloading the merchandise and delivering it to The Love in Christ food bank in Georgetown

There the toys will be gift wrapped and distributed to the families.

Students at Holy Cross school, Adrian Carreiro, Grade 7, and Amanda Meers, Grade 4, deposit Canadian Tire money for the fundraiser for toys for needy children. Julie Goulet, one of the teachers organizing this event looks on.
