IODE busy preparing for Christmas season

By DOT NORTON
Lakeside IODE

All our donations to provincial and national headquarters for the year have been sent out. Now we start to try and make enough money for the coming year.

Mary McKenzie will be sending off a parcel to our classroom in Makovickic for Christmas. It doesn't take much to make the children happy and the teacher is able to use some of the things sent as special prizes. We will be joining the other groups to sort and pack the baskets for Christmas on Dec. 21, between 6:30 and 7 p.m. that night. We have hopes of having them ready for the 22nd. This is one of the things the IODE tries hard to help with for those less fortunate than ourselves at this time of the year.

Our citizenship lady Jess Coles always comes up with just the right things at times like Remembrance Day. She tells us of how she told the children at the church about the Wars. Jess grew up in a family of veterans. Her father Sergeant Major Wilfred Coles joined the Forces at the age of 15 and was in the Boer War. At the same time Baden Powell was also there. She took the medals and the beautiful embroidered cards to show the children these cards came mostly from France.

One never heard of the sorrows or hardships from the men or what they had to endure. Her brother also was in the second war and although he returned his health wasn't as good as when he left. But like her father and others they gave of themselves so that we may enjoy this beautiful land of ours, Canada. So for this reason alone we should be proud to wear poppies on Nov. 11th and our prayers go out to the men of Canada who gave so much.

We will be taking a break for our Christmas meeting by going out to dinner. Time and place of dinner will be told to each group of IODE. Please remember to bring your gifts for Women's Place to the dinner - there is no need to wrap them this year. Dec. 7th is the Christmas party.

The Nominating Committee for this year certainly had good results. All offers are filled for coming year and our Regent is still Ernestine Foster.

Successful bazaar held

The November meeting of Daughters of Knox was opened by the President, Mrs. Anne Moore, reading a poem entitled, Brotherhood, followed by the singing of Living for Jesus and unison repeating of the group motto.

The minutes of the October meeting were read and approved, and the Treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Toth, gave a comprehensive report, with special attention to the results of our very successful bazaar, which was held on October 30.

The winners of the draw were Mrs. George DeForest, who won the beautiful handmade porcelain doll. Congratulations to both winners!

The members of the nominating committee were busy filling out the slate of officers for 1994, and will soon have their job completed.

The worship service was conducted by Renee Watson and her group, and this month's segment of the study on the Caribbean was presented in the form of a video entitled, The Many Faces of the Caribbean.

Lunch and a social time were enjoyed, and plans for our Christmas meeting, were made.
