a new Esso Home Heating furnace will make you feel warm all over.

Why so warm all over? Because a new high efficiency oil furnace from your Esso Home Heating Reseller is safer, cleaner burning and operates at a very high level of efficiency. This could mean real dollar savings on your heating costs vs other types of home heat. And the National Energy Board predicts that oil prices will remain level well into the next century. For the best in products and service, call your local Esso Home Heating Reseller and ask about renting or buying a new high efficiency Esso oil furnace and related equipment.
