

INTELLIGENT INVESTING

with
CARY LEON

Keeping Your Yield Up

With interest rates at 25 year lows, many investors are finding themselves being shocked into the nineties with a tremendous drop in the income being generated by their investment dollars. Today I would like to make you aware of an investment that will allow you to generate superior quarterly income with excellent long term capital appreciation.

MacKenzie Financial Corporation's Industrial Income Fund is an investment portfolio which is primarily invested in high grade government bonds with the balance being invested in Blue Chip Canadian stocks. By changing the asset mix subtly, the manager can shift assets to take advantage of changing market conditions.

One of the most appealing aspects of the Industrial Income Fund is that it pays investors .25 quarterly in the form of a dividend based on the current unit price. This represents annual income of approximately 10.40%. Investors can choose to take their quarterly income in the form of cash payments or have them reinvested in more units. For those looking for income payments this amount is significantly higher than the income currently being offered by traditional investments.

In closing, Industrial Income Fund provides investors with a low risk method to maintain high current income and is also a 100% eligible investment for self-directed RRSP's.

Vi Ashcroft retires after 25 years

By JANET BAINE
Staff writer

Park School secretary Vi Ashcroft said things have come full circle since she started working at Park School 25 years ago.

"I decided I might as well work because all my friends were working, and now all my friends are retired, so I can spend time with them," she said. She's looking forward to going out for lunch and then browsing around craft shops, rather than rushing back to school.

"It took me a long time to decide (to retire), but I think it's time to give someone else a chance at it," Ashcroft said. People have been asking about her job for some time: secretary at a small school is perfect for a mom with young children, she said.

Ashcroft started working at Park School in 1969, just after she and her family moved to the Limehouse area from Toronto.

She felt like she had "come to the end of the world" and wanted to work at a school so she could spend all the school holidays and summers with her children. Ashcroft called up the school, because she liked the name, and asked about getting a job there. As it happened, the secretary was leaving.

"I don't think my kids even

Park School secretary Vi Ashcroft will have time to put her feet up and relax after retiring from the school after spending 25 years at that school.

knew I was working when I first started," she said. She worked part-time and was able to be home at lunch time and when her children returned from school.

Unlike teachers, she could take holidays during the school year as well.

Perhaps the most interesting time in her job was in the early days when one of the principals used to hand out compliments to the parent volunteers, who were all stay-at-home moms.

"He was Mr. Personality. I think we had more parent volunteers at the school each day than we had students," Ashcroft said. "All those moms that were home all day just loved it. It was always interesting to see who would come to the school."

Things have changed a lot over the years. Ashcroft said that the work load is basically about the same as when she started, even though computers and a network for all the schools has come in.

The job is always the same, but also changing: new students come each year, and she likes that.

MEXICAN CASSEROLE

- 6 chicken legs or breasts on the bone
- 2 cups chicken stock
- 1 cup wild rice uncooked
- 1/2 cup corn kernels
- 2 zucchini cut into 1/2" pieces
- 1 onion cut into 1/2" pieces
- 1 red pepper cut into 1/2" pieces
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 1/2 teaspoons cumin
- 1 1/2 teaspoons chili powder
- 1 1/2 teaspoons ground coriander
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- 125g shredded mozzarella cheese

- 1) Preheat oven to 350°. In small bowl stir cumin, chili powder, coriander, salt & pepper. Pour half of spices on to separate plate. Rub both sides of chicken in half of spice mixture.
- 2) Heat oil over medium heat, add chicken in batches and brown 5 minutes each side.
- 3) Sprinkle rice over bottom of 9 x 13" pan. Pour in stock. Add zucchini, onion, red pepper, corn and remaining spices. Stir to mix. Place chicken over vegetables.
- 4) Cover dish and bake in centre of oven for 1 hour. Uncover, sprinkle with cheese & bake uncovered for 10 minutes until cheese melts.

PUBLIC MEETINGS Recreation Master Plan

The Town of Halton Hills has prepared a Draft Recreation Master Plan which identifies, through a series of proposed recommendations, the role for the Recreation and Parks Department in providing recreation services in the community and describes an approach for the future development of culture and recreation facilities, programs, parks and open space. The Master Plan also establishes priorities for the development of future recreation and parks services.

All residents of the Town of Halton Hills are encouraged to attend a public meeting with the consultants to review and provide comments on the Master Plan's recommendations. Input from the public is essential to ensure the Plan truly reflects the needs and interests expressed by our community. Two public meetings will be held on:

WED., DEC. 1, 1993 - 7:00 P.M.
ACTON HIGH SCHOOL CAFETORIUM

THURS., DEC. 2, 1993 - 7:00 P.M.
CENTENNIAL MIDDLE SCHOOL, GEORGETOWN

For more information regarding the Recreation Master Plan or the upcoming Public Meetings, please contact Tom Shepard, Director of Recreation and Parks, at 873-2600.
