

Mountsberg celebrates an old-tyme Valentine

Are you suffering from the mid-winter blues? Why not lift your spirits at the Mountsberg Wildlife Centre and participate in the Old Time Valentine special event on Sunday, February 13 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wander down to the farm pond for some skating or warm up with a friend by a roaring bonfire. You can even take part in a quiz about the weird and wonderful ways of critter courtship. Sit back and enjoy a romantic horse drawn sleigh ride with that special someone or guess how many hearts are in our candy jar. Those of you with a true love for birds may want to join a guided walk around several of Mountsberg's busy winter bird feeding stations. All of these activities and more are included in your gate admission. Adults: $2.75; Students (13 and over): $2.25; Children (12 and under) and Seniors (over 65): $1.75 and Preschoolers N/C. For more information, please call the Halton Region Conservation Authority (weekdays) at (905) 336-1158 or the Mountsberg Conservation Area (weekends) at (905) 854-2276. Mountsberg is located 5 km west of Campbellville, just south of Hwy 401, between Guelph Line and Hwy. 6.

CNIB fundraiser Crocuses for the office

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, (CNIB) Halton Peel is conducting its Fifth Annual Crocus Sale, this February to raise $7,000. The Dutch Purple Crocus bring Spring into any home or office. Why not color your home or office purple?

"Volunteer will be delivering crocus pots to businesses during our delivery period February 8, 9, and 10," says Josie Quinn, volunteer coordinator, CNIB Halton Peel.

By purchasing CNIB Crocus in pots of 4-6 blooms for $4 or three pots for $10, you can help to support rehabilitation services to blind and visually impaired people in this community. Many of these vital services are threatened due to reduced funding.

This event is the first in a series of fundraising efforts in 1994 to benefit over 2,143 blind and visually impaired individuals served by CNIB Halton Peel. Please call Josie Quinn at 905-275-5332 to see how you can bring spring to your office early this year.

Halton Creative Sewing Association
BEV GOSS

Attention sewers! The Halton Creative Sewing Association invites you to participate in our second Renew your Rejects Contest, 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 22 at Georgetown and District High School on Guelph St., Georgetown.

Your sewing skills are not necessarily being judged, but your ideas will be by the audience!

There were wonderful entries last year and it was a treat to look them over and see the great ideas. Here are the rules: item(s) must be sewn; can be for the home or an article of clothing; include a short, simple description on a recipe sized card of what the article was in its previous life. 'Before' snapshots are great but not necessary. Presentation counts also; do not include your name on the card if it can be avoided; bring the item(s) to the cafeteria before 7:15 p.m. for registration and setup.

The audience will judge by ballot vote. We have a $25 prize for each category. They are: Most Useful, Most Innovative, Most Artistic and Best of Show. If you have a problem getting your entry to the school or for information call Shirley Lyons at 877-5485.

To cover expenses we will be asking for a small admission at the door. That evening, we will have 'Penny Sale' tables (contributions to this event are welcome!) and Diane van de Valk will tell us about the recycling of materials.
