

Joseph Gibbons School hosts region-wide chess tourney

The annual Halton Junior Chess Tournament was held at Joseph Gibbons School on April 12. There were teams of six players from 15 schools from across Halton - 90 players altogether. The tournament was held in two divisions with Martin St. School of Milton winning the A division and Clarksdale School of Burlington winning the B division. Individual winners were based on their points earned as they played other teams in their group.

Halton Hills Community Chess Club recently held an all member round robin tournament to determine the 1994 club champion. Winning member club president Peter Welling (right) accepted the club plaque from last year's winner Michel Ponce. TED BROWN Independent/Free Press

QUESTIONS? QUESTIONS? QUESTIONS?

We all have plenty of questions covering a wide spectrum of life's experiences. It's just the answers that we seem to be short on.

And even if we don't consider ourselves to be "religious" or attend church but on rare occasions, there are still questions that we would like to be able to ask, such as . . .

If God is, then how come . . . ?

What does the Bible say about . . . ?

What does it mean where it says . . . ?

Lakeside IODE learns the SCORE

Our meeting opened with the Regent Ernestine Foster in the chair. Prayer of the Order and Flag salute were repeated by those in attendance; the Flag standard being in place.

Secretary and Treasurers' reports read and approved all bills to be paid. So now we can get on with the rest of the meeting.

Mary McKenzie had a magazine loaned to her on Labrador and tells of the area around were our school room is most interesting and the pictures were certainly beautiful.

The sewing group with Rene Watson and Eunice Gibson have been working very hard, and have come up with the quilt to be raffled at the bazaar in November. These ladies have done a super job.

Roll call was next on the list and 15 members were on hand. A number of our ladies will not be returning this year which makes us sad. It's hard to take names off the list. Other than that the rest of the reports were not available.

We will be having a bake sale on May 6th somewhere in town, could be at the church or on someone's verandah. Plans aren't just ready as yet, but we will let you all know about it.

Ladies don't forget our annual Chinese dinner will be held on May 3rd at 6:45 p.m.

Now for the treat of the evening, our guest speakers Kim Rogers and Brenda Kearney, principal of the E.C. Drury School in Milton. She has known about IODE for a number of years. Her mother is involved in Ridgeway.

These young ladies are the brain storm of SCORE. Just let me say what these letters mean S-school, C-community, O-out, R-reach, E-experience. And this is just what they are trying to do for a drop-out kids in our town of Acton.

These are the students who do not wish to go to school and stand around on street corners and get into trouble, which most of them likely will follow them all their lives. They are also the ones that are under 16 years of age.

The young ladies are not above going into places and onto the streets and asking these boys to come to school. Most of the time they are successful in getting them. The most important thing about this project is they must take English and Math. The two most important things today.

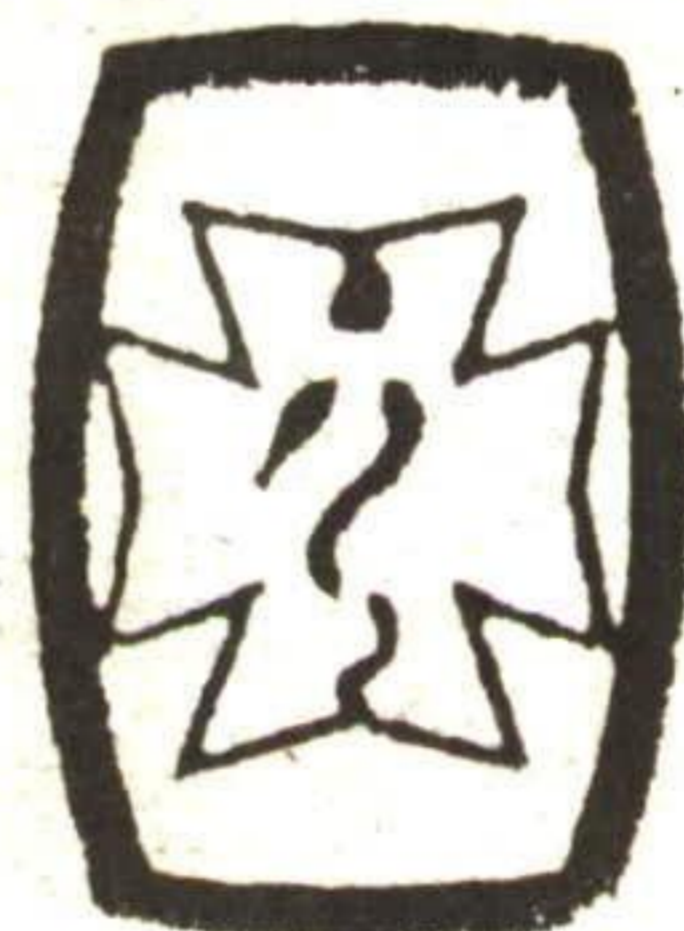

Job training is the other subject be it whatever. They get to work with people in our town who are willing to try and help these kids learn to help themselves. If they don't make it the first time they hope they will try again. It's the only way they will succeed.

Kim Rogers is the young lady here in Acton doing her best to help them to have a better life. They do have those who fail the teaching but then there are others who turn out to be role models. These are the boys that help so much in getting others to come to SCORE for help. It works for most of them.

And the ladies keep on trying. They would welcome any help they can get as it isn't being paid for by the government. They are more than willing to go to talk to other groups who are interested in helping our drop-out kids in town. Milton and Georgetown also want these ladies to try in their towns.

They certainly are to be admired for their work outside school.
