Chessmates

Eric Knoespel of Artcast on Armstrong Ave. admires a chess set cast at the Georgetown-based art foundry. The various pieces, originally carved in stone by native Mohawk artist Thomas B. Maracle of Deseronto, Ontario, depict several different Mohawk spirits of nature. TED BROWN Independent/Free Press

Feedback needs help harvesting

Feedback Canada, the domestic program of Canadian Feed The Children is appealing to good samaritans in Acton, Georgetown and the metro Toronto area to assist them in harvesting crops for the needy.

Feedback Canada supplies more than 50,000 pounds of fresh produce per month to approximately 50 agencies and groups in the Golden Horseshoe area who cater to the hungry.

"We are desperate for volunteers to help us harvest crops because we're shorthanded this year," says Dave DeForest, program officer for Feedback Canada.

Participants are asked to donate whatever time they can spare...even if it's just a few hours. Any level of participation is appreciated and no experience is needed.

Feedback Canada works seven days a week and are able to deliver food to those who need it most within hours. Working on donated land with donated materials, Feedback Canada organizes volunteers, emergency food aid recipients and agricultural needs of the hungry. Emergency food aid recipients can even access a community garden plot to grow their own produce - moving towards self-sufficiency.

Feedback Canada has moved more than one million pounds of fresh produce since its initial creation in May 1992.

Anyone interested in offering their assistance should call: Feedback Canada in Toronto at (416) 693-1220. People living outside Metro Toronto can call toll free 1-800-387-1221.

Patricia and Maurice Corcoran are pleased to announce that their daughter Joanne graduated from the Early Childhood Education program with Honours at Sheridan College on June 8, 1994.
