

HAPPY 30TH SCHEEP

Top citizen in the Glen

Longtime Glen Williams resident Shirley Inglis was named the Glen's Citizen of the Year at the annual Canada Day celebrations last week-end.

Inglis said she was honored to receive the award.

"Being chosen Citizen of the Year was first a shock, then a surprise and now a great honor which I will cherish for a long time," said Inglis. "I would like to thank all the people who participated in this surprise."

Inglis has been an active community member of several years.

She has lived in Glen Williams for 40 years and both played and coached minor ball there for many years.

For several years she has volunteered as a canvasser for the Cancer Society and United Way, and been an organist at both Union Presbyterian and St. John's United churches.

Dawson and Halton Hills Fire Chief Bill Cunningham to cut the ribbon, Tuesday at noon, celebrating the restaurant's first year of business.
