Smoke alarms mandatory

Recent changes to the Ontario Fire Code now require home owners who rent part of their homes as apartments to meet minimum fire safety requirements.

Every owner is responsible to ensure that smoke alarms are installed by August 13, 1994. Other minimum standards must be met within two years.

To find out what the new regulations mean to you as a landlord or as a tenant, contact your local fire department (877-1133) or the Office of the Fire Marshal, at the phone number listed under Ministry of the Solicitor General and Correctional Services in the Blue Pages of your telephone directory.
