

New Reuse Centre opens

Halton Region in cooperation with Amity Goodwill Industries officially opened the Halton/Amity Reuse Centre at the region's landfill site in Milton on October 13. The centre will be operated by Amity Goodwill Industries and will accept reusable items from Halton's residents. It is open six days per week at no cost and is available for drop off of quality reusable items such as toys, clothes and small household articles.

Anything for a vote?

Some candidates will do anything to get a vote.

Ward 3 regional candidate John Day went up a shaky extension ladder propped up against a hydro pole to try and get Sally, a four-year-old cat, to come back to the ground.

He was door knocking on MacKenzie Dr. Thursday afternoon at Colleen Brown's home when Sally, her six-year-old daughter Anna's cat, was attacked by a dog and ran up a hydro pole. Anna was crying hysterically at the base of the pole, and the Fire Department wouldn't come.

"I'll spare you kissing babies if you help my cat," Colleen said she told Day.

He continued door knocking, but then went to get the ladder and went up.

While it was Colleen's husband who eventually got the cat to come down, she said several neighbors had gathered and were reading his campaign literature as they watched.

Brown promised him her vote.
