4-Hers honor top members

Halton 4-H Clubs handed out their awards at special year-end banquet, November 25 in Nassagaweya community Centre.

The Most Outstanding 4-H Member in Halton in 1994 was Connie Bennett. Connie has been described as a "real team player and a true leader" and is very worthy of the J.E. Whitelock Award designating her as the most outstanding 4-H member in Halton. This year at the Royal Winter Fair she not only contributed to the overall success of the Halton team in winning the Premier County Award for the second consecutive year but was recognized nationally as the Reserve Grand Champion Showman.

The Most Outstanding 4-H Member with under 12 projects completed in 1994 was Bob Coles. Bob has been a member for the past three years and has completed eight 4-H projects. In 1994, Bob proved his judging ability by winning the Junior Division at the Halton & Peel 4-H Judging Competition. Bob represented the Junior Dairy Calf Club at the local Go For The Gold Competition this year and also participated in the Judging Clinic provided by the Halton 4-H Association.

The Henry J. Stanley Award recognizes a Halton 4-H member who contributes achievement with leadership ability and contributed to their club(s). This year's winner was Jodi McDonald. As a member of the Halton 4-H Beef Club, Jodi worked with her fellow club members on an attractive Herdsmen Display which resulted in the Region of Halton winning the Herdsmen Competition at the 1994 U.B.I. Silver Dollar Competition. Jodi excelled at the 1994 Silver Dollar Competition on an individual basis as well, tying for third place overall.

The following awards are sponsored by the Kingsway Kiwanis Club.

The Claude Bain Trophy for the Most Outstanding First Year 4-H Member went to Kate Sparling. As a first year member, Kate completed three 4-H projects during the summer - Dairy, Walk on the Wildside and Veterinary. As the youngest member of the Veterinary Club Kate completed an impressive model of a dog's digestive system that was displayed at all the local fairs.

Stan May Leadership Trophy whose selection is based on congeniality, leadership, interest and involvement was presented to Laurie Heath. Through the years Laurie has completed 20 4-H projects that cover a wide span of topics ie: Horse, Good Foods Fast, Social Recreation, Working with Wool and Judging - to name just a few. As a representative of the Region of Halton, Laurie has attended Leadership Camp and has participated in a Connections Canada Exchange as well. Laurie regularly participates in the Royal Winter Fair horse show and proved her judging ability this year by placing in the top five at the Halton and Peel Judging Competition.

Judging Trophies and Awards won at Halton-Peel Judging Competition:

Overall Champion Judge, Jason Brownridge; Champion Livestock Judge, Jason Brownridge; Champion Field Crop Judge, Peter

Merry; High Score General Knowledge, Laurie Heath; Champion Beef Judge (tie), Jason Brownridge and Laurie McDonell; Champion Dairy Judge, Dave Coles; Champion Horse Judge, Laurie Heath.
