Marjorie Powys performed the role of school marm instructing Doug McEachern with grandson Brandon, Nicole Cowper of Glen Williams and Becky Parker of Nassagaweya at the recent Fall Festival at the Ontario Agricultural Museum. School house SS #6 served Nassagaweya from 1886 to 1965 and was moved to its current location at the museum to portray a classroom of 1910. The Fall Festival was a successful fund-raising effort to keep the museum open next year.

Elizabeth Wallace was recently surprised with a cake honoring her 90th birthday by the Golden Age League at Georgetown Bowl. She has bowled for more than 20 years and, being a former national finalist, still displays fine form on the lanes.

Magician Robert Presswood of Brampton brought his unique "Peer Energy" show to Harrison School Thursday, sending a message of positive self esteem and environmental awareness with a little help from Grade 5 student Ruby Reid.

The monthly senior men's luncheons are now into their tenth year, as organizers (from left) Murray Henley, Ted Gorth and George Miehm have been involved for most of that time. The luncheons, held monthly at various churches and halls about Georgetown, were founded by the late Irwin Noble, and feature an informal light lunch, followed by a speaker. The cost is $7 and everyone is welcome. For information, call Murray Henley at 877-7239, Ted Gorth at 877-6774 or George Miehm at 877-2697.
