

Norval bar brawl results in serious facial injuries to man

Teens joyride on a skid-steer

Three young offenders two female and a male were charged after a joyride on a stolen vehicle in Acton was cut short Tuesday night by Halton Police.

A number of calls to police by citizens reporting a lot of hooting and hollering at around 11 p.m. on local streets led officers to the Shoppers Drug Mart parking lot on Queen St., where the three were located.

A break-in at T&H Milling on Church St. W. in Acton had been reported earlier in the evening in which several work jackets and a New Holland LS 170 skid-steer were taken from the premises.

The trio was arrested and charged with break and enter and possession of stolen property.

A Brampton woman faces an aggravated assault charge after a man was smashed in the face with a beer bottle in a brawl outside the Nashville North nightclub in Norval early Friday.

Halton Regional Police responded to a call for medical assistance just after 1 a.m. and were informed by Nashville North staff that a verbal argument between the accused and the victim, who knew each other, escalated into physical violence.

According to the police report, the man was slapped in the face by the suspect and he retaliated by splashing his drink in the woman's face.

The accused then struck the victim in the face with a beer bottle, which touched off a large fight involving two groups, with punches and drinking glasses thrown.

The man was transported to hospital with serious facial injuries that required at least 20 stitches.

Medical staff advised that the victim will require plastic surgery for the wound.

Charged with aggravated assault is Taylor Pacheco, 23.
