GLIC to host Improvariety night on Saturday

By Sam Hancock
Georgetown Little Improv Club

Are laughs your thing? Tired of driving all the way to somewhere not Georgetown? Good news!

Are you available on Saturday, Feb. 27, at 8 p.m.? If you are free that night, you are politely asked to attend a comedy show at The Georgetown Little Theatre Studio, 33 Stewarttown Rd.

It is the first-ever Georgetown Little Improv Club (GLIC) Improvariety Night! The variety is that it's in February, a month we have never done a show! Also, Jake will be playing the blues on his piano. And, there will be some young, up-and-coming stand-up comics coming all the way from nearby to perform, LIVE AND LOCAL. Maybe more, but you have to come see.

You know what? Usually we ask for a small pay-what-you-can fee. This one? It's free. No charge. Except, bring something for the food bank, please.

Come on out! Warm yourselves up with laughs and the camaraderie of good friends.

Seats are limited and available at the door. If you have any questions, contact the Georgetown Little Theatre, 905-877-3422.
