

Williams Mill shows a Kaleidoscope for Spring opening this week

Williams Mill's new spring show Kaleidoscope One to Twenty (April 6-24) is a solo exhibit of Wendy West's abstract paintings. West chooses complementary colours, then works them into harmonious designs until she is satisfied she has created a kaleidoscope of visual interest.

original painting hangs in Ottawa. West's wildlife art was judged best in show by Robert Bateman, Glen Loates, George McLean and Paul Berdette.

West is an artist in many disciplines; music, poetry and fine art. At once an accomplished figurative painter and bronze sculptor, her latest work focuses on abstract acrylic painting as well as a small number of delicate bronze sculptures.

Her works may be found in many private collections such as Canada's own Gordon Lightfoot and her commissioned portraits hang in the boardrooms of numerous corporations. West has been a featured artist with the John A. Libby Fine Art Gallery of Toronto for 35 years.

West's equine paintings have been featured on the covers of Trot Magazine and Harness Tracks of America. The portrait of War Amps of Canada CEO, Clifford Chadderton, is proudly on the cover of The Fragment. The Show continues thru April 24 and new jewelry, ceramics and silk scarves have been selected from artists across Ontario to complement the show. Gallery hours Wednesday thru Sunday 12-5 p.m.
