

EARTH WEEK

CELEBRATIONS

SATURDAY, APRIL 30, 2016

We are celebrating Earth Day at the Robert C. Austin Operations Centre between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. at 11620 Trafalgar Road (Georgetown).

Free compost and wood chips (bring your own shovel), electronic and household hazardous waste accepted, trees sold at a nominal cost ($5, limit of four trees until 10 a.m.) and enjoy a delicious BBQ breakfast and lunch. Food and cash donations for our local food banks are gratefully accepted. For more information visit:

www.haltonhills.ca/initiatives/earth-day.php

Join us between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. for a free family Earth Day & Sustainability Fair at the Georgetown Market Place, 280 Guelph Street, (Georgetown).

Highlights include:

- Community groups and organizations showcasing their work
- Interact with Mountsberg "Birds of Prey"
- Make a Plant Buddy craft
- Enjoy children's activities and advice on enhancing your land, water and wildlife, hosted by Credit Valley Conservation and Conservation Halton
- Donations to local food banks will be gratefully appreciated
- Visit the Halton Hills Hydro booth to learn about energy conservation

Norval Wildlife and Nature Artists hosts Meet the Artists event on Saturday

Norval Wildlife and Nature Artists, a group of artists with a studio at 16 Adamson St./Winston Churchill Blvd. in Norval are hosting a Meet the Artists event on Saturday, April 30, 12-5 p.m.

The public is invited to see the new spring-theme paintings created for the studio's latest show, Impressions of our Natural World. The artists are: Guylaine LeBlanc, Stella Marin, Vicki McCracken, Kelly McNeil and Milly Tseng.

No doubt the concern for our environment; our air, water and, of course, our animals, has been heightened. In the midst of this wildlife art is emerging as a very dominant art form. The environmental aspect is on the mind of every wildlife artist. They strive to produce work which makes a statement and abides by the definition of fine art.
