

HDSB administrator earns provincial honour

A Halton public school board senior administrator has won a provincial honour.

Gerry Cullen, superintendent of facility services for the Halton District School Board, recently received the Ontario Association for School Business Officials (OASBO) McCordic Award.

It recognizes outstanding contributions to the service of school business. It was established in 1980 to honour the contributions of W. J. McCordic, a longtime educator in Ontario. Specifically, the award recognizes service with a school board or the ministry of education.

Cullen has served on the OASBO executive including as its president.

To be singled out among the many members that work in education is very special. As with most organizations of this nature, the networking and information gained from other members is the real reason it's so successful.

Cullen said he's never experienced the same two days in Halton, making his position challenging and rewarding.

Working with teams of people to design and open new schools is exciting; keeping existing schools operating and upgrading them never ends, he said.

Gerry Cullen stands with the OASBO McCordic Award.
