Chong promises bold policies, putting riding on grand stage

If we tell those stories as Conservatives, Canadians will see themselves in our party and they will come out and support us.

Chong also said by putting forward a bold vision for Canada based on new economic policies regarding tax reform and environmental policies regarding new, sustainable environments and democratic reform will also attract residents to the Conservative group.

Although Chong received the most support from people around the country, he made sure to get his family's opinion before he took any steps forward.

We brought them into the discussion, and they actually were part of the reason why we decided to enter the race, he explained. They were quite excited about it.

If he wins the leadership, Chong is looking forward to better serving Canada but also looks forward to raising the profile of his riding of Wellington-Halton

Hills.

The concerns of the residents of Halton Region and Wellington County will be amplified on a much bigger stage, he said. I'm proud of the area I represent; I'm proud of the region that I come from and it's an opportunity for us to raise the profile of these communities.
