SCREEN TIME: The 2016 Cadillac CT6 features an available rear seat infotainment system that further elevates the back seat experience. Headlining the advanced capability of the CT6's rear seat infotainment system are the HDMI and USB ports located on the front of the rear centre seat or in the rear seat centre armrest. By utilizing these ports in combination with the vehicle's built-in 4G LTE Wi-Fi network, owners can use devices such as Google Chromecast, Amazon Fire TV Stick or Apple TV to stream internet content directly (such as Netflix, Hulu or YouTube) to the rear seat screens. The ports can also be used to mirror device displays via the HDMI port or to play media stored locally on a drive.
