Halton Hills Bike Challenge heading into home stretch

The odometers seem to have taken on a life of their own in the Halton Hills Bike Challenge, with 310,000 km logged as of Wednesday towards the ultimate goal of 400,000 km.

Close to 1,500 local residents have registered for the challenge and when the community reached the halfway mark of 200,000 km covered last month, it signalled the donation of $25,000 from local groups to the Georgetown Hospital Foundation.

Those donations consisted of: Georgetown Canadian Tire: $20,000, CPI: $1,000, Young Dentistry: $1,000, Generations Physiotherapy $1,000, Betty D Oliveira: $500, HealthSpan Wellness: $500, Dynamic Bodies: $500, Sweet Sophia Bows: $500. When the 400,000-km goal is reached, an additional $60,000 in pledged donations will be given to the hospital.
