Vivian Hicks shoots music video at Georgetown Fall Fair

Twelve-year-old entertainer Vivian Hicks has teamed up with another young performer from St. Catharines for a duet single and the video for the song was shot in her own backyard.

Hicks and 13-year-old Christian Lalama came together to record Last Chance and its video was shot during the Georgetown Fall Fair earlier this month.

Both are K-Tel Mini Pop Kids and decided to use Lalama's original Grease-themed song as the basis for the new recording and video.

Also appearing in the video were dancers from locally based Centre Stage Dancers and Oakville's Canadian Dance Company at various locations at the Fairgrounds.

Hicks also recently released her own single entitled #Diss that has garnered more than 100,000 views on YouTube over the past couple of weeks.
