IN MEMORIAM

In Loving Memory
Mae Milton

*Gone is the face
we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice
we loved to hear;
Too far away for
sight or speech,
But not too far
for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember
she who was here,
Who, gone away,
is just as dear.*

Memorable April Fool's Day pranks

It's not too soon to plan April Fool's Day pranks on unsuspecting friends, coworkers and family members. Here are a few monumental hoaxes

• In 1976, British astronomer Patrick Moore announced on BBC radio that, at 9:47 a.m., Pluto was going to pass behind Jupiter and create a momentary decrease in the Earth's gravity, creating a strange floating sensation on Earth. The BBC received hundreds of phone calls from people having said they felt the gravitational effects.

• Discover magazine reported in 1995 that a new species of animal was found in Antarctica - the hotheaded naked ice borer whose head heated up to bore through ice at high speeds. The magazine received more mail for this story than any story in the history of the publication.

• In 1998, Burger King printed a full-page advertisement introducing the "Left-Handed Whopper," which was specially designed for all of the lefties. The condiments were rotated 180 degrees for the benefit of left-handed customers. Thousands of customers headed into Burger King to get the special burger.

• In 1992, comedian Rich Little impersonated the voice of Richard Nixon to announce Nixon's new candidacy for president. The announcement included audio clips of Nixon delivering a candidacy speech. Listeners flooded National Public Radio's telephone lines to express outrage.
