Night sky explorations

Your guide to the galaxies — Phil Mozel from the Ontario Science Centre — will reveal the science of astronomy in the night sky at the Mountsberg Conservation Area on Saturday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Beginners and experts will be star struck with a presentation, slides and hands-on telescope experience. Participants are encouraged to bring their own telescopes, binoculars and cameras, and to dress warmly. Explore the Night Sky is billed as a fun, fascinating and fact-filled evening. In case of cloudy skies, an equally entertaining indoor itinerary is planned. To register on-line visit www.conservationhalton.ca Mountsberg is located on Millborough Line, five kilometres west of Campbellville.

GO on track for resumption of trains for Acton commuters

GO Transit's proposed designs for the new Acton GO Train stop are currently under technical review by the Town. "A lot of work is track-related to the CN right-of-way," said Chris Mills, the Town's Director of Infrastructure Services and Engineer, on Friday, adding the Town will provide its comments on the construction.

"They're still planning on having an inaugural service at the end of the year," Mills said, adding a survey crew was on site last week to take measurements, but no construction has begun. "As part of the inaugural service, there is not a significant change planned for the parking lot as it looks today," he said.

Mills said GO and the Town have not finalized a licence agreement allowing GO to use the municipal lot for commuter parking.

GO spokesman Malon Edwards said ticket vending machines will be located at the north-east and north-west platform entrances. GO's Presto card machines, which allow commuters to load cash on a card to use to pay for trips, will be located in strategic places at the Acton stop.

Malon said they are making progress in discussions with the Town of Halton Hills to "acquire the required property rights to permit the use of the Town's land for parking and other GO station and infrastructure."

Malon said on Tuesday that GO is on track to offer GO Train service to Guelph and Kitchener before the end of the year, including two trains in the morning and two in the afternoon. "Service details, including train schedules, are still in the planning stages and have not yet been finalized and we will not be in a position to confirm the timeline for the station in Acton until an agreement is reached with the Town."

GO Transit, which currently services Acton with 14 bus trips daily, anticipates that 400 passengers will use the Acton GO station daily by 2021.

It is an honour to serve you.
