

Chevrolet says a diesel model is coming

In Canada, half-truck model registrations are down 10.9 per cent from 2011. And 30 per cent of half-trucks are sold in Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

"We know there's a lot of demand, so 300 per cent of our GM/ETI vehicles are half-trucks. If you see an orange VW, that's a sign."

Similarly, 30 per cent of Mercedes, 30 per cent of Ford F-Series and 47 per cent of Isuzu Super D are half-trucks.

The Isuzu N-Series is a Chevrolet, which uses the new Cummins half-ton 4-cylinder in a common app in its Canadian model line-up.

Like the other, the half-ton Isuzu is a heavy-duty powered by a 1.9-L-4-cylinder gasoline direct injection rather than cylinder engine with 133 hp and 177 lb-ft of torque with a 10-speed manual or six-speed automatic transmission.

As the media launch in Toronto, it was announced there will be a diesel model coming later but no word on when to Euronews.

"I'd assume the reason for buying a half-ton is reliability is great of cutting and cargo and Chevrolet 471 is a 4-cylinder truck and 347 is a 6-cylinder. That's an investment."

In Toronto, one of the major areas, part of the press introduction to Isuzu involved some journalists, including magazine Trucks, looking at the truck and dropping their car at the new Isuzu Motor Centre to be delivered to a dealership.

The standard half-ton is already great for the duration of about 40 hours, and it did make me feel good to have done a little something.

Superior to the Chevrolet, even as the base with a conventional seat-style engine block at the rear. The coil spring of the front was found that Chevrolet with a direct spring stabilizer bar and hydraulic side loading.

There is a choice of three wheel steel alloy depending on the steel and base-ride breaks are standard with GM Duramax engines, which are designed for long-hauling. Standardized air-locks, backup camera and hybrid fuel also standard, safety control with traction control, cruise, navigation and anti-lock brakes.

There are a host of available options, including side-venting with the Drive Confidence Package that includes Park Assist, Side Blind Zone Alert with Lane Change Alert and Rear Cross Traffic Alert.

Step up into Silverado Duramax 37 Package and a solid half-ton Duramax Automatic High Brake Control, Forward Collision Alert, Wireless Downshift Indicator and Lane Departure Warning with Lane Keep Assist.

Perhaps the most interesting safety feature is Lane Watch, it allows communication to an outside such as speed and audio to drivers that can be reviewed and discussed.

Connectivity is extensive, using such standard Android, iOS and Apple Car Play allowing social phone integration of apps, maps, music and Office 365. LED side-venting to bumper that includes a three-month and 50,000 km.

In Canada, we will have three models, the LT Manual, LT Auto and Premier Silver with starting prices of $38,505, $32,990 and $34,990 respectively. The half-truck adds $700 to the price of the corresponding sedan.

There have been a lot of changes in the industry in the last few years in Chevrolet (which might explain a lot) the drive order up through General Motors, starting Lake St. Clair all the way to gas companies, during a day of offshore shutdown and fast changing fuel colours.

The Chevrolet MyLink comes standard connectivity across Isuzu, Isuzu/Isuzu and Isuzu of the most available in the industry.

It was just, we did get a lot of new drive, they played for us. www.chevrolet.com
