The region at your fingertips

The Region has launched its free mobile application (app) that puts the Region's high-quality services in the palm of your hand. With OneHalton, the region is just one tap away anytime, anywhere.

Halton's services are easy to access through multiple channels and OneHalton optimizes the Region's most frequented online services for Apple and Android devices to better serve mobile users.

OneHalton launched with five major service request forms, streamlining the process for:

- ordering yard waste labels;
- requesting tags from the Diaper Bag Tag Program;
- reporting immunization for elementary and high school students;
- registering for prenatal classes; and
- requesting metal and appliance curbside waste collection.

The new app optimizes mobile access to many of Halton's services. This includes our waste collection resources OneHalton features the interactive waste collection calendar and sorting tools, as well as information about the Halton Waste Management Site and its disposal fees.

You can also stay current with decisions and plans that impact your community. It lets you read our recent media releases, contact customer service or specific Regional staff, and check Halton's official Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn, YouTube and Instagram feeds. It even helps you contact your regional councillor, check meeting agendas and watch videos of council sessions.

OneHalton's other features include information and services that connect you with the community. It allows you to browse private sector job opportunities through Employment Halton or display the region's current postings. It also links to event and festival listings offered by the local municipalities, and provides maps to regional facilities and cycling routes that define Halton as the home of cycling in Ontario.

To learn more and download OneHalton, visit the App Store on your iPhone or iPad, or visit Google Play on your Android device and search for OneHalton.
