The story behind those beloved Christmas ornaments

We were married in July 1958.

We purchased this ornament at T. Eaton Co. and hung it on our very first Christmas tree in December that year.

It is a pink angel enclosed in a glass bubble extremely fragile.

The ornament has been until recently continuously displayed in a prominent place on our annual Christmas tree.

This changed when our cat became obsessed with it and decided that tree ornaments were great toys it didn't seem to matter how high we placed them on the tree.

Fearing for the safety of this ornament, we purchased a stand to support it and now each year it has a place of honour on our fireplace mantel.

We take great pride in having been able to preserve this ornament for the last 58 years and it is still a source of pleasure and cherished memories each time it is displayed.
