Local musicians earn awards for high grades at annual exam

Some local music students have received praise for their high grades at a provincial examination.

The Ontario Registered Music Teachers Association of Bolton-Brampton-Caledon Branch celebrated music students high achievements at the recent annual ORMTA Student Awards Ceremony and Concert.

Several students of Marlene Sampaio's Music Studio from Georgetown were presented with ORMTA music awards for achieving high marks on their 2016 RCM examinations.

Joshua Lapsley was presented with a trophy for achieving the highest marks in the Basic Theory/Theory 1 category.

The ORMTA is a not-for-profit provincial organization managed by a volunteer council and comprised of more than 1,300 Registered Music Teachers and related members across Ontario. For more information about ORMTA, please visit www.ormta.org
