The Ontario Progressive Conservative Party have announced incumbent Wellington-Halton Hills MPP Ted Arnott will remain its candidate in 2018.

The party made the announcement in a release sent Monday (Jan. 9) after the veteran legislator was acclaimed as the PC Candidate at a local nomination meeting in Acton held on Jan. 7.

Ontario needs change. We need a change of Government, said Arnott in the release. The work is not yet done, and as such, I accept your nomination to stand as the Progressive Conservative Candidate in the next provincial election.

Arnott, 53, was born in Fergus, Ontario and has served as the riding's representative at Queen's Park since 1990. He is among the longest serving MPP's in Ontario's legislature.

In 2014, Arnott beat out Liberal candidate Dan Zister by more than 8,000 votes.

The next Ontario general election is scheduled to be held on or before June 7, 2018 when Arnott will be seeking his eighth term in office.

Following Arnott's nomination, Puslinch Township resident Glenna Smith was returned as Wellington-Halton Hills Provincial PC Association president at the local chapter's annual general meeting.

I want to congratulate Ted. We have an exciting time ahead, as we make plans for the coming provincial election, said Smith.
