

Air bags deployed in Friday the 13th crash on Guelph St.

No one was injured following a two-vehicle collision in front of Christ the King Secondary School the morning of Jan. 13, causing traffic to be backed up in the area.

Halton Regional Police responded to the call of a minor collision at Guelph St. and Windsor Rd. just after 10 a.m.

Air bags in both vehicles were deployed and although Halton Emergency Medical Services attended to the occupants, no one was taken to hospital.

The cars were cleared from the scene about an hour later.

An officer on scene said it hadn't been determined whether any charges would be laid.

There were plenty of witnesses to a minor crash in the intersection of Guelph St. and Windsor Rd. in Georgetown at around 10 a.m. Friday as several Christ the King Secondary School students observed the incident. Nobody was seriously injured.
