Join Glen Williams native Russell Braun for Sunday afternoon concert

A long-time resident of Glen Williams is performing a Sunday afternoon concert in Georgetown as part of the Inspiring Spaces Concert Series at St. John's United Church of Georgetown and Glen Williams.

Russell Braun is very generous with his time and talents, frequently performing for local fundraisers and special events.

This year, Braun will be performing as an Officer of the Order of Canada, O.C. for short.

Braun was one of only 22 distinguished Canadians named in December 2016 as Officers of the Order of Canada. Governor General David Johnston cited Braun to receive one of the highest civilian awards in Canada for ... his accomplishments as an internationally renowned opera singer and cultural ambassador for our country.

In April and May of this year, audiences will be able to see Braun perform the title role of Louis Riel with the Canadian Opera Company in Toronto. The concert at St. John's this Sunday (Jan. 29) will allow audience members to enjoy his performance in a more intimate setting.

On Sunday, Braun will be performing art songs with his long-time friends Norine Burgess, mezzo-soprano, and Nathalie Paulin, soprano, accompanied on piano by his wife, Carolyn Maule. This concert is the first of three shows in this year's Inspiring Spaces Concert Series at St. John's.

Tickets are available at ticketscene.ca or from the church office by calling 905-877-2531.

Doors open half an hour before performance time; a reception with the artists follows.

For the first two concerts, ticket prices are $25 for adults in advance, $30 at the door and $15 for students. For the third concert, ticket prices are increased to $40 for adults ($45 at the doors) and $20 for students. A concert series pass is $75, including Jan. 29 and two more concerts during the year: on Sunday, May 28 at 2 p.m. with Tyler Brown, piano and Carolyn Maule, piano; and, on Saturday, Sept. 23 at 7:30 p.m. with the Elmer Iseler Singers, a 20-voice professional chamber choir from Toronto, founded in 1979 and now conducted by Lydia Adams.
