Awards presented during Cultural Symposium

The Halton Hills Cultural Roundtable recognized heritage during its Canada 150 Arts Alive Awards event at the Cultural Centre last Friday evening.

The awards are presented every three years and recognize the extraordinary contribution that local residents have made to the cultural vibrancy of Halton Hills. There were 27 nominations for the 10 award categories. Recipients included:

- Excellence in Visual Performing and/or Literary Arts Ron Greidanus.
- Excellence in Cultural Development Al Robitaille.
- Arts Alive/Heritage Halton Hills Award for Heritage Willow Park Ecology Centre.
- Youth Leadership Award Kaleigh Halverson.
- Ralph Ursel Award for Volunteerism Kevin Hazard.
- Kenneth R. Harrison Award for Youth Mentorship Alex Hilson.

Patron of the Arts, Culture and/or Heritage Don Ablett and Carol-Ann Michaelson.
 Award for Local Business Partner Artisans Attic.

New Arts Culture and/or Heritage Event, Group or Program Head for the Hills Craft Beer Festival.

Established Arts, Culture and/or Heritage Event, Group, or Program Acton and Glen Williams Canada Day Event Teams.

Lifetime Achievement Award Sandy Mackenzie.

The keynote speaker for the Awards Evening was Kim Wheatley an Anishinaabe band member of the Shawanaga First Nation. Wheatley's presentation provided the audience with a new perspective on the Aboriginal experience and what the community can do during the Canada 150 year to embrace this part of our heritage.
