

Daffodil Days needs volunteers

The Canadian Cancer Society Halton community office is looking for site managers to assist with Daffodil Month pin sale locations.

Daffodil Month takes place every April and is one of the Canadian Cancer Society's largest fundraising campaigns. During this time, communities across the country show their support for Canadians living with cancer by buying and wearing a daffodil pin.

The Halton community office is in need of site managers to assist with the campaign.

According to the cancer society, site managers will meet interesting people, and orientation, training and support are provided.

Volunteers are needed for the dates of Thursday, March 30 to Sunday, April 2, and again from Thursday, April 6 to Sunday, April 9.

Daffodil pin sellers can sign up for two or three-hour shifts on these dates at both LCBOs in Georgetown and again at Freshco and Metro from April 6-9. Students can use their volunteer hours or for families, friends or groups to get out and volunteer in the community.

With these donations, the Canadian Cancer Society funds life-saving research and support services, as well as other important work, so that fewer Canadians are affected by cancer.

For those interested, contact Sandy McDonald at smcdonald@ontario.cancer.ca or call the branch office at (905) 845-5231.
