Halton Hills: hang your maple leaf flags to celebrate Canada's 150th

The Halton Hills business community is encouraging everyone to show their pride and celebrate Canada's 150 birthday by flying our red maple leaf flag. Chamber of Commerce Chair Marnie Hughes announced the campaign on Canada's Flag Day recently.

The flag campaign committee chair, Cheryl Cardon of Circus Strategic Communications, said, "Our Halton Hills Tourism Committee was looking for a way to celebrate Canada's sesquicentennial and demonstrate how great we feel about our town and our country. What better way than to blanket the town with national flags?"

The tourism group is encouraging people to install flags on their porches and lawns and businesses to display them outside. The goal is to see thousands of flags flying throughout Halton Hills on Canada Day, July 1.

We're now sourcing affordable flags so everyone can participate, Cardon said. Our flag sponsorship team is contacting major businesses to support the effort.

In addition to the usual retail outlets for Canadian flags, the campaign team is planning locations where residents can pick up garden flags for planting in June. They will be asking people to register their flags so an official count can be taken on Canada Day.
