Turn off your lights for Earth Hour this Saturday

Get ready to turn off your lights for Earth Hour this Saturday.

On Saturday, March 25, from 8:30-9:30 p.m., the Town of Halton Hills encourages residents to join the rest of the world in darkness by turning off your lights for an hour.

Earth Hour is a national initiative bringing awareness to global warming and environmental conservation. All residents, businesses and organizations are invited to participate.

During last year's event, local energy consumption dropped by 6.43 per cent, enough to power 3,277 homes for one hour. Since the first Earth Hour event in 2008, Halton Hills has saved enough energy to power an average of 26,652 homes for one hour.

According to the Town's website, this initiative is not just about turning off the lights for an hour, but promoting year-round conservation and taking long-lasting actions to benefit the planet.

The Town is also partnering with Halton Hills Hydro and Wastewise from March 18-25 to collect e-waste in Halton Hills. Unused electronics can be donated to Wastewise to be recycled or purchased by someone else.
