Montreal has most sightings

That was a big reversal from the previous year's report where 66 per cent were probable and 20 per cent considered insufficient. The report notes that's because of a more rigorous evaluation process this year.

About four per cent were considered unexplained, which the report says is the lowest in its 28 years, but does note that classification doesn't imply alien visitation.

Each case may still have an explanation following further investigation. And, of those that remain unexplained, they may (stay) unexplained but still are not incontrovertible proof of extraterrestrial intervention or some mysterious natural phenomenon, reads the report.

Only 1.5 per cent of the reports were categorized as explained, the lowest amount since 1992.

The report found the majority of sightings came in June, July and August (about 37.7 per cent) and most were reported as lights in the sky (54.9 per cent). In terms of cities, Montreal reported the most (73) while Vancouver (70) and Toronto (65) were a close second and third.

Some of the shapes seen in the reports were triangle, ball, cigar, fireball and the classic flying saucer (which was reported 48 times or about five per cent of the total sightings).

The annual survey compiles UFO sightings across Canada that are reported to a number of sources, including the Mutual UFO Network.

Some of the more unusual highlights of the report include a sighting from Cornwall, P.E.I. on Jan. 10 where a thin, six-foot-tall long-fingered white alien in a black suit appeared in (a) bedroom. The witness spoke to the alien, which then left by walking through a wall.

Another from Tecumseh, Ont. on Jan. 12 stated that the witness reported that an alien entity was responsible for stealing his sunglasses, belt and silver possessions. Later, the witness produced a photograph in which he thought a rip in space and time could be seen.
