Former Halton employee charged after region allegedly defrauded of $770,000

Milton Canadian Champion

Three people, including a former Region of Halton employee, have been charged with fraud-related offences after police say the region was fleeced of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In a Halton Regional Police Service release issued last week, the Fraud Unit alleged that Halton's former public works manager defrauded the region of approximately $770,000 since 2008 by fraudulently administering or awarding contracts to a Hamilton-based company.

Police say they were alerted to the former 17-year regional employee after the August 2016 arrest of another employee, David Ohashi, who faces fraud-related offences.

Ohashi's next court appearance is set for April 21.

Nicolas Rewa, 55, of Mississauga, is charged with two counts each of fraud over $5,000, municipal corruption and secret commissions, one count of laundering proceeds of crime and one count of property obtained by crime.

Rewa's wife, Marion, 45, is charged with one count of fraud over $5,000 and one count of possession of property obtained by crime.

Stoney Creek resident David Norris, 52, of the Hamilton-based company Sirron Systems Inc., is charged with two counts each of fraud over $5,000, municipal corruption and secret commissions. He is also charged with laundering proceeds of crime and property obtained by crime.

The trio is set to appear in Milton court May 9.

Police encourage anyone with information about this extensive investigation to call the Regional Fraud Unit at (905) 825-4747 ext. 8739 or Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-8477 (TIPS), online at www.halton-crimestoppers.ca or by texting TIP 201 with a message to 274637 (CRIMES).
