Halton police have arrested and charged a 52-year-old Halton man for what is being described as an indecent act following an incident in Oakville the evening of April 18.

In a release sent Thursday (April 20), police said Kristopher Knuff of Oakville allegedly committed an indecent act in the parking lot of the entertainment plaza located on Winston Park Dr. in Oakville.

While police didn't provide details of the act itself, investigators believe the accused may have committed similar acts in the past in Peel Region and possibly in other areas of Halton Region.

Police said the accused was driving a black Nissan Xterra when the incident occurred and are asking anyone who may have been a victim of a similar incident in neighbouring jurisdictions to call Halton police.

Knuff has been charged with one count of committing an indecent act and one count of criminal harassment. He was held for a bail hearing in Milton court on Thursday.

It is believed this male has committed similar acts in neighbouring jurisdictions. Police are continuing with the investigation and encouraging any witnesses to this incident or similar incidents of this nature to contact Det. Sgt. Andrew Forde of the Oakville Criminal Investigations Bureau at 905-825-4747 Ext. 2215, wrote Halton police in the release.
