holds national age group records there, but upon emigrating to Canada in 1989, added hurdles, pole vault, long jump, shot put and pentathlon to her repertoire, winning several Ontario and national medals at the university level.

In 1995, she represented her adopted country in heptathlon in the Canada vs. U.S. combined events competition.

She lists her gold medal performances in the pole vault at the World Masters Championships in Australia in 2001 and in Finland in 2012 as the highlights of her career, while also holding Canadian Masters records in the pole vault, javelin and shot put.

The owner of a Ph.D. in molecular genetics at Trent University, a masters of science degree in zoology from the University of Guelph and post-doctoral fellowship in cancer genetics at York University, Szanto began racing in canoe and kayak events in 2012 and within two years won all of her events at the World Masters Games.

She received nine gold medals at Ontario Masters Athletics events in 2014-15 and three times has been named the organization's athlete of the year.
