The all-new Terrain offers greater refinement and versatility to adapt to customers unique needs, and it's packed with more available features and advanced safety technologies than ever before.

GMC Terrain pricing starts at $30,195

Pricing for the all-new 2018 Terrain will start at $30,195 for SLE front-wheel-drive and top out at $41,695 for Denali all-wheel-drive, plus a delivery freight charge of $1,700.

The all-new Terrain offers greater refinement and versatility to adapt to customers unique needs, and it's packed with more available features and advanced safety technologies than ever before.

Three all-new turbocharged engines, leading with a 2.0-litre at launch followed later with a 1.5-litre and an available 1.6-litre turbo-diesel provide more choices when it comes to performance, efficiency and capability.

The all-new GMC Terrain provides great value in packaging with a host of standard premium features, including a new 170 hp, 1.5-litre turbo engine paired with a new nine-speed automatic transmission; driver-controllable Traction Select system; signature LED daytime running lamps and taillamps; leather-wrapped steering wheel; flat-folding front passenger seat; and keyless open and start.

The Terrain Denali raises the bar even further to add a standard 252 hp, 2.0-litre turbo engine; 19-inch ultra-bright machined aluminum wheels; LED headlamps; heated and ventilated front seats; heated rear outboard seats; wireless charging; an eight-inch diagonal infotainment system with navigation; Bose premium seven-speaker audio system; and a suite of standard safety features.

The new Terrain keeps passengers connected with Apple CarPlay and Android Auto compatibility and access to a standard in-vehicle OnStar 4G LTE with Wi-Fi hotspot.

In addition to the 4G LTE connection, the OnStar Basic Plan comes standard on all new GMC retail models for five years. The Basic Plan offers select remote
